

Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC

DIVISION OF DENTAL PUBLIC HEALTH & PEDIATRIC DENTISTRY

The Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC seeks applicants for a part-time, non-tenure-track position at the rank of Clinical Assistant Professor in the Division of Dental Public Health and Pediatric Dentistry.

Responsibilities include providing clinical care to underserved children at off-site dental clinics as part of a large-scale public health research and service grant that focuses on improving the oral health of children ages 0 to 5. Additional responsibilities include teaching at the pre- and post-doctoral levels at the School and affiliated sites.

Candidates must have a DDS or DMD degree, a certificate from a CODA-accredited advanced dental education program in Pediatric Dentistry, be licensed to practice dentistry in the State of California, and hold PALS certification. Prior experience in providing care to children ages 0 to 5, special needs patients and underserved patients in outpatient settings is required. Candidates with additional training and experience in community oral health are strongly encouraged to apply.

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, complete curriculum vitae, and arrange to have at least three letters of reference sent to:
