DIVISION OF DENTAL PUBLIC HEALTH
& PEDIATRIC DENTISTRY

The Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC seeks applicants for a part-time, non-tenure track position at the rank of clinical assistant professor in the Division of Dental Public Health and Pediatric Dentistry. Responsibilities may include didactic and clinical teaching at the predoctoral and postdoctoral levels at the Ostrow School, as well as affiliate hospitals, clinics, and community sites.

Candidates must have a DDS or DMD degree and a certificate in pediatric dentistry from an ADA approved program and should be a Diplomate of the American Board of Pediatric Dentistry or a Board Candidate. A license to practice dentistry in the State of California is also required. Candidates with additional training and experience in clinical or basic science research are strongly encouraged to apply.

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, complete curriculum vitae, and arrange to have at least three letters of reference sent to:
