BI-WEEKLY DEAN'S MESSAGE

Dear USC Dentistry Community:

If there is a silver lining to the ongoing challenges, massive disruptions and general uncertainty created this year by the COVID-19 pandemic, it's that I have developed an even deeper appreciation for this community.

When I think about the ways we have listened to, supported and trusted each other and found ways to move forward in the labs and on the clinic floors, I can't help but feel tremendously thankful. And while our challenges are far from over, I know that together there's nothing we can't accomplish.

Above, I have included a photo taken pre-pandemic to hopefully show, that although the world as we knew it has changed profoundly, the spirit of this holiday remains.

This Thanksgiving, I want to thank all of you for your dedication, resilience and hard work. I also want to wish you and your loved ones a Happy Thanksgiving. Whether you're dining with immediate family members or Zooming with family from across the country, stay safe, stay healthy and, as always, Fight on!
